

The Corporate signature

Ahola Transport corporate signature consists of the corporate symbol, AT and logotype.

The corporate signature can be used in forms presented next.

No changes to the size, form or juxtaposition of the components are permitted. As a rule, the logotype and the corporate symbol are used together. They can be used separate only in special cases such as a large symbol on the truck or other currently approved products. Use of the single symbol must be agreed before application.

The vertical version should only be used for display purposes where maximum visual impact of the logotype is needed, - such as exhibition panels and banners.

Do not lead out the logotype, make it bolder or lighter, or alter in any other way.

Reproduce the corporate signature only from a digital original. Do not make it on your own computer or have it composed by anybody else.
